English Language Arts

In both reading and writing we are currently working on non-fiction strategies. We are reading complex informational texts and learning note taking strategies. In writing we are employing those same strategies and writing based on our findings in our mentor text, Heart and Soul.

Math

In math we are launching our new unit of study which focuses on equivalent fractions as well as adding and subtracting fractions.

Social Studies

We are in the middle of our unit of study which focuses on European Exploration. The focus of this unit is to explore the motivations and consequences of their
