Principal's Newsletter

November 2, 2018

Dear Families,

Happy November! This month provides our school community with time to reflect upon all the smart work our students have been engaging in for the past two months. Parent Teacher Conferences are Thursday, November 15th at 12:20-2:20PM and 4:30-7:30PM. During this time, your child's teacher will share information about grade specific curricula, your child's achievements, work habits and peer relationships. We invite you to share any questions, comments or concerns that you have during the conference. Additional information will be provided in a separate mailing. As a staff, we truly appreciate your support as we continue to strengthen the home-school connection.

Important Information Regarding Parent Teacher Conferences

- In order to accommodate all families, conferences will average 10 minutes per student. If you wish to engage in a longer discussion, please request, with the teacher, a time to either meet in person or have a phone conversation for a follow-up conference.
- Prior to the Conference, you will receive your child's report card. Review and discuss it with your child and prepare questions, comments and concerns for the Parent Teacher Conference.
- We encourage you to share with your child the goals and next steps discussed at the Parent Teacher Conference. Our goal as a school community is for our students to recognize and feel that teachers and parents are working together to support them in reaching their fullest potential in and outside of school.
